

Enjoying in-person in Chinook's Edge!

To bee or not to bee!

It's hard to say who was more excited about the school-wide spelling bee at Jessie Duncan Elementary School - the students or the staff! The assembly was held to raise funds for field trips - both of which were activities that had been paused for the past two years. Most of the students at the Pre-K to Gr 3 school had never been at an assembly before! Principal Kory Sholdice and teacher bee Justin Bronson ensured the gym was abuzz with correct spelling and great fun!

Standing ovation - Superintendent Kurt Sacher jumped on a chair to welcome the Support Staff Matter Committee recently!

In-person learning - After months of meeting online since last fall's election, the Board of Trustees recently gathered for their first in-person meetings. As schools begin their budget discussions together as part of the annual Resource Allocation Working Group (RAWG) process, Trustees worked with one another on a RAWG exercise to familiarize themselves with the methodology. RAWG is a made-in-Chinook's Edge approach to determining budget allocations together as a group of school administrators, which ensures transparency and equity across the division.
